Reed Security, a small security company in Warminster, provide staff for events, night clubs, gigs etc. The owner, Ian Reed, has to manage the distribution of staff who live up to 60 miles apart.

To help him, we installed a Cisco router together with firewall and set up a server running Outlook. This means all his staff can VPN in and look at the central calendar for their work schedule.

Ian also needed a small printer and laptop, which we hire to him on a monthly basis. This has proved to be a highly cost-effective solution, especially with pay-as-you-go support, which he pays for by credit card through our Paypal system.
